Knights To Give Play At Opera House Tuesday

Writer of 'Landing of Columbus'
Will Direct Last
Rehearsals

Joseph P. Farrell, composer and playwright, will arrive Friday from his home in Iowa City and direct the concluding rehearsals of his celebrated play, "The Landing of Christopher Columbus," which will be seen at the opera house Tuesday evening.

The cast remains the same as produced last year with the exception of three changes. The company leaves Dixon Sunday afternoon for Walton, where they will hold a dress rehearsal in St. Mary's hall. Mr. Farrell will accompany the players and make such changes as will be necessary to improve the production.

The play portrays in historical and truthful manner every incident in the Admiral's career from the time he was commissioned by the king and queen of Spain to undertake the voyage until his triumphant return with glad tidings of success at the court of Barcelona. Special attention has been given to the scenic equipment of the production and the costumes are the very best. The entertainment is an educational one to old and young and the comedy element is not lacking.

TO RETURN TO HOME IN FREEPORT.

Freeport Journal-Standard: Robert Waldecker, the 16 year old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Julius Waldecker of Evelyn avenue, who mysteriously disappeared Wednesday, Jan. 20, has been located at Dixon, Ill., and he will return to his home in this city this evening. Word was received by the parents of the young man this morning that he was safe in Dixon where he was working for a newspaper. Telephonic communication with the young man resulted in a promise from him to return this evening.

The circumstances of his being located are not known. However, it is the opinion of Chief Root that the post cards sent out to police departments were the cause of locating him and that he was instructed to return
by the Dixon officers.

MASONIC SCHOOL IS ONE OF BEST EVER HELD IN VICINITY

LARGE ATTENDANCE AND IN-TERESTING WORK MAKES IT BIG SUCCESS.

The attendance at the Masonic school of instruction was quite large today, many being here from various lodges of neighboring cities. It has undoubtedly been one of the best attended of the schools held in the northern part of the state for a number of years and the instructors have taken a personal interest in exemplifying the work. A thorough drill has been made in the catechism and each officer in the subordinate lodges will have a more comprehensive knowledge of the work in conferring the various degrees.

The capacity of the hall was taxed last night by the brethren present to witness the conferring of the degree on the candidate. The Master Masonic degree will be conferred on a candidate tonight and it is expected that the attendance will be equally as large as last night.

January Thaw At Hemmen Home Caused Blaze

Straw Around Foundation Was Ignited By Blow
Torch

In attempting to thaw out a frozen water pipe at 1:30 this afternoon with torch, a bad fire was narrowly averted at the Fred Hemming home on Third street. The fire department was called and a chemical was all that was necessary to extinguish the flames.

A water pipe leading from the cistern into the house had frozen and Mr. Henning was attempting to thaw it out. He had the walls of the house banked with straw to keep out the cold and before he started with the torch he thought he had removed all the straw from the vicinity of the pipe.
However, some of the straw had been forced up back of the sill and as soon as the flame of the torch came near it a blaze shot up, and being under the floor it was difficult to get at.

President Vetoes Immigration Bill; Special Message

Says It All But Closes Gates Of Country To Many Good People

(Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—
President Wilson vetoed the Immigration bill and sent a special message to Congress, saying that he disapproved of the measure because of the literacy test and other restrictive tests. In his message the President said: "In two particulars the bill embodies a radical departure from the long established policy of this country. It seems to all but close entirely the gates of an asylum which has always been open to those who could find nowhere else the right and opportunity of constitutional agitation for the rights of men, and it excludes those to whom the opportunities of elementary education has been denied without regard to their character, purposes or natural capacity. The sight of a political asylum here has brought to this country many a man of noble character who was classed as an outlaw in his own land and who has become an ornament to our citizenship."

TRY CRIMINAL CASE MONDAY AFTERNOON

CLARENCE KALEBAUGH MUST ANSWER CHARGE OF EM-BEZZLEMENT.

In the Circuit Court this morning
a jury in the case of Miss Hermine Hecker against Louis Long brought in a verdict in favor of the plaintiff for $75 and costs of the suit. The suit was the outcome of an affray that occurred at a dance held last summer.

There being no further work for the jurors for the remainder of the week they were excused until Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at which time the first and only criminal case of the term is set for hearing. This is the embezzlement charge against Clarence Kalebaugh; he having been charged with having been short in his account when manager of the elevator at Eldena.

This afternoon hearings were had on chancery matters. Master in Chancery Mark Keller filed his report as to the distribution in the case of Rowley vs. Rowley. An order was also entered in the foreclosure case of Rachel Webster vs. Mary E.
Martin.

Experts Say Eggs Will Be High Priced In Fall

If the farmer wishes to benefit by the high prices that eggs are certain to bring next fall and winter, he should begin to get ready for them at once, say the poultry specialists in this department. The way to have the eggs late in the year is to hatch pullets early. It is early hatches from which the early pullets are derived that are the largest money makers for the poultry producer. The early cockerels can be marketed in almost any market in America when they attain a weight of three-fourth of a pound to a pound and a half each, which they should reach at about 6 to 10 weeks of age, respectively, at a greater profit to the producer than at any other time of their lives. The early hatched pullets, if properly grown, should begin to lay in the fall at the time when eggs are scarce and high in price.

A Few Facts to Remember.
Pullets must be well matured before they will lay many eggs.

Pullets that start to lay in the fall before cold weather sets in, as a rule lay all winter.

It is the early hatched pullets that produce eggs in the fall and early winter, when prices are high.
February, March and April are the months to do your hatching in order to secure early hatched pullets.

Yearling and 2-year-old hens do not lay many eggs in the fall, as they are molting at that time, and the feed they consume goes not only to keep up the energy and life of the birds, but also to put on or grow a new coat of feathers.

In properly matured pullets all surplus energy beyond that needed to meet the requirements of the body is available for the production of eggs.

Farm to Farm Inspections and Thorough Disinfections Are Continued.

LATE DEVELOPMENTS IN FIGHT ON CATTLE EPIDEMIC

No new cases of the disease have been discovered during past two days;
but, although officials find much encouragement in this detail, they point out that about ten days ago no new farms were quarantined for several days, following which the malady appeared with renewed vigor in many places.

Federal officials are busy with their farm to farm inspections and with the disinfection of farms where the cattle had been killed and buried.

Federal authorities today closed to public traffic the public highway in front of the George Harms farm in Palmyra township.

No new cases of stock infected in this county were reported by the government or state inspectors up to the middle of the afternoon today.

Today brought forth little new in the fight being waged in Lee county against the foot and mouth epidemic which has gained sufficient foothold

DIXONITES WILL STILL GET SEEDS

MAY PLANT PART OF THEIR GAR-DEN AT GOVERNMENT EXPENSE.

Dixonites may get ready to plant their gardens next spring with free government seeds sent to them by Congressman McKenzie. Despite the agitation against distribution by part of the members of the house the old ruling will stand, and people over the country will still be encouraged in making gardens.

The annual row in the house of representatives came off this week in regard to the distribution of seeds. The efforts of many representatives to quash the measure of doing away with the system failed and the item of $252,540 which is allowed in the agricultural bill, has still remained intact.

TURKISH INVASION OF
EGYPT IS UNDER WAY

Army of 120,000 Marching on Suez Canal, Is Report.

London, Jan. 28.—Dispatches from various points indicate that the reported invasion of Egypt by the Turks is at last under way. From one source it is reported that a Turkish army of 120,000 men under command of Djemal Pasha is marching on the Suez canal. From another it is announced that an engagement was fought near El Kantara, about twenty-eight miles from Port Said.

It is evident that the British commanders at the canal and in Egypt expect a considerable movement of Turkish troops against them and are preparing to repel the invasion. Troops and war ships are being assembled at the canal and all civilians are leaving that region.

British airmen have been engaged in making important reconnaissances as a result of which a Turkish army was discovered in the vicinity of El Kantara. When the fighting began on British aviator firing bombs upon the Turkish forces near Birmurhadad, inflicting severe losses.

The battle at El Kantara was mostly an artillery action in which the Turks opened fire at long range with mountain guns and the British answered with machine guns and rifles. The forces engaged are said to have been small and the casualties of the Egyptian army were only four men and one officer slightly wounded. The Turks are supposed to have been the advance guard of the main army of three army corps.

Detachments of Turkish troops have been sighted at three other points east of the canal but no fighting has resulted. It is said that the British have mounted heavy guns along the canal and are amply prepared for any Turkish force that may arrive. A large number of war ships are at Port Said and they may be distributed at points along the canal if necessary.

PREACHER HAS TEN FINED

His Masquerading as Sport Costly to Alton Gambling Resorts.

Edwardsville, Ill., Jan. 28.—The masquerading of Rev. C. W. Reese of Alton, Ill., as a "sport" while he investigated the vice district of that city a year ago brought fruit in the form of fines aggregating $1,675 imposed on ten defendants who pleaded guilty to maintaining gambling resorts. Rev. Mr. Reese, chief witness against about forty defendants, was escorted to and from Edwardsville by a volunteer guard of twenty-one citizens from Alton.

James M. Bandy, state's attorney, agreed to recommend fines of $25 and costs for first offenders who pleaded guilty and $500 and costs for those charged with repeating the offense.

DIXON YOUNG LADY
WINS SPEED HONORS.

MISS MARIE SEAGREN DEMONSTRATED SUPERIOR TYPE-WRITING ABILITY

Miss Mary Seagren, daughter of August Seagren of this city, but who since the death of her mother several years ago has been living in Chicago with an aunt, has just received high honors in speed test on a typewriter and has been awarded a certificate of efficiency, good anywhere in the United States and applicable to all manner of stenographic work.

In speaking of Miss Seagren, the Chicago Herald of this morning has the following to say:

"If a typewriting machine is to be in demand it must be capable of great speed and ease of operation. Companies manufacturing the instruments are at great pains to discover operators who have unusual skill.

When one is found she is trained to the highest efficiency and soon advertisements proclaim a new "speed marvel."

Miss Marie Seagren, a Chicago high school girl of 2028 West Sixty-eighth street, who attends the Parker high school, has received such recognition.

Miss Seagren, who will be graduated tonight, has taken the speed examinations offered by all the companies and has received from each a mark of merit. From one, however, she has received an invitation to be trained under its direction to be a speed demonstrator.

In a test in which five words were taken off for every one misspelled or improperly typed, Miss Seagren was given a mark of 62 words net for a ten minute test in new matter. She was nearly 50 per cent ahead of her nearest competitor."

GRAY KICKS IN WITH HIS $5

Inclia's Ajax Weakens in Defying Lightning in Speaker's Hands.

Washington, Jan. 28.—Representative Finly H. Gray of Connorsville, Ind., who declined to contribute $5 to buy a wedding present for Miss Jessie Wilson, caused some surprise when he handed a $5 bill to Representative Robert N. Page of North Carolina as his contribution to a fund that is being raised among members of the house of representatives to buy a wedding present for Miss Genevieve Clark, daughter of Speaker Clark. Representative Page is a member of the committee appointed to collect the fund.

When the move to buy a present for Miss Jessie Wilson started Representative Gray took the position that if much more laudable way of spending money would be to give it to the poor, and while other members were contributing $5 each to the wedding fund he gave that amount to a Washington charity. He received letters from all over the country commending him on his stand.

ROCKFORD TOURNEY
WILL BE VERY BEST

AT LEAST TWELVE BASKETBALL TEAMS WILL COMPLETE IN THE MEET.

The sectional high school basketball tournament of Northwestern Illinois has taken on additional interest from the fact that at the State High School Athletic association meeting in Chicago Saturday, two counties were taken from the northeastern section and added to the northwestern division. This means that beside Belvidere, Freeport, Rockford, Mt. Carroll and Sterling, with possibly Sycamore, Polo and Dixon added, Elgin, West Aurora, East Aurora, Batavia and other fives in McHenry and Kane counties will join in the Rockford tournament, making it the best of all.

THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

The Monroe Doctrine, which is kept, it was picking up a kingdom instead of the United States in an apprehensive and sleepless condition today, was invented by President Monroe about a hundred years ago when the United States was so small it couldn't afford to be afraid of anything on earth.

At that time it was feared that the great powers of Europe might edge in on the American continent in such a manner as to make a great deal of unnecessary crowding. President Monroe realized that a great power with a standing army only two jumps from our devoted frame might be hard to reason with and conciliate and he accordingly announced that while both Americas were excellent grazing territory, Europe was cordially invited to keep off the grass.

This caused a great deal of ill feeling at the time, but the United States had an excellent navy, plentifully supplied with grape, minus the juice, and the suggestions were unanimously adopted. In the sixties, while Uncle Sam was very busy elsewhere, France seized Mexico under the impression that

ROBINSON LECTURES
PRAISED BY PASTORS

DIXON PEOPLE WILL HAVE OPPORTUNITY TO HEAR THEM SOON.

"As timely as 12 o'clock" is what Bob Burdette said of the lectures of Dr. and Mrs. A. T. Robinson. A vital and important message to the age is what Dr. Gunsaulus, the noted Chicago pulpit orator thinks of them. These people are under contract at a high price for the chautauqua season and could not be had for love nor money for this kind of work.

The State Sunday School association deems it a very great privilege to be able to retain these people in the state of Illinois and to recommend them to Dixon under the auspices of the Community Training school.

The first opportunity to hear them will be at a mass meeting at the Baptist church Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Beginning Monday evening they will lecture each evening at the same place until Friday evening. No charge will be made except for Mrs. Robinson's travelogue lecture on Friday evening. A collection will be taken.

en each evening to defray local expenses.

Mrs. Robinson lectured to 10,000 people in Salt Lake City and when in Europe the Christian World of London says, "She received the unusual honor of a national farewell on Monday evening at Glasgow. Between 3,000 and 4,000 people were present from all parts of the country and an address of appreciation and farewell was presented. She visited the Prison Island known as the Isle of the Lost while in Russia, a privilege never before granted to a British subject.

MERCURY HITS 20 BELOW

Last night was another extremely cold one, but despite the general belief that it was colder than at any time before this winter the government thermometer registered 20 degrees below zero, which is three degrees higher than on Christmas morning and two degrees warmer than on last Friday night.

Straw Party.

Tri-County Press: The Straw party Friday evening which was held in the Straw building in commemoration of the twentieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Straw was an unequalled success. In response to the invitations of the host and hostess, $5 out of the approximately one hundred invited, appeared in their best clothes and humor, fully confident that they were to have a royal good time and they had it.

For persons who like to trip the light fantastic, the new store room was provided and made an excellent ball room. The fine floor and the strains of the Marquette orchestra tempted some of the "old timers" and some of whom had not "shaken their foot" in from five to twenty years, to "step it off" in the way that made the "young fry" gasp and wonder if Ponce de Leon's fountain of youth was not close at hand.

Not only in the old time dances did the "old timers" shine, but in the newer one step, fox trot, hesitation, and so forth, which they performed with grace and thorough enjoyment.

Most of those whose dancing days were done or had never commenced found enjoyment in witnessing the dancing from the balcony and indeed they seemed to enjoy it as much as the dancers themselves.

Still others played cards and engaged in social conversation. The Straws endeavored to entertain all who came, in the way they wished to be entertained and therein lay the great success of their party.

From 11 o'clock on a delicious two course luncheon was served under the efficient direction of Mrs. D. W. Myers and Misses Ruth and Louise Kerste and Addie Hicks.

As the "wee small" hours approached, the guests bade Mr. and Mrs. Straw a reluctant good night, after voicing the hope that they might enjoy many more wedding anniversaries and that they might be permitted to participate in the celebrations.

Thus closed one of the most successful and enjoyable parties which has been given in Polo for some time.

SEEK TO ENFORCE LAW ON OVERDRAFT

STATE BANKS RECEIVE ORDERS FROM STATE AUDITOR TO STOP PRACTICE.

To the state banks of Illinois:

Because the practice of paying checks which overdraw accounts is illegal as well as out of harmony with sound business principles, you are hereby advised that in the future this practice must be discontinued and you will so inform your customers.

This department is co-operating in this movement with the controller of the currency and for your information I beg to state that that official has issued similar instructions to national banks in Illinois.

You will please see to it that the foregoing instructions are complied with. Banks in Illinois have received a copy of the above letter from State Auditor James J. Brady and each has posted the letter in a prominent place in the bank.

As if the war revenue tax on checks that overdraw accounts is not sufficient, Uncle Sam and the state of Illinois now demand of bank patrons to be more careful about their checking accounts.

Law Is Not a New One.

It is not a new law to which attention is called, declared a local bank official today. For some time it has been illegal to overdraw accounts in this state, but the law has not been strictly enforced. The letter would indicate that an attempt at enforcement is being made.

What the exact penalty is the bank official said he did not know, but he did say the bank as well as the bank patrons are subject to a penalty. The state bank can be held for the reason that in every statement that goes to the state auditor the bank is required to show how many overdrafts there are and for how long a period each has run.

How to Have the Best Cough Remedy, and Save $2 by Making It at Home

Cough medicines, as a rule contain a large quantity of plain syrup. A pint of granulated sugar with ½ pint of warm water, stirred for 2 minutes, gives you as good syrup as money can buy.

Then get from your druggist 2½ ounces Pinex (50 cents worth), pour into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with sugar syrup. This gives you, at a cost of only 54 cents, a full pint of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50—a clear saving of nearly $2. Full directions with Pinex. It keeps perfectly and tastes good.

It takes hold of the usual cough or chest cold at once and conquers it in 24 hours. Splendid for whooping cough, bronchitis and winter coughs.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it loosens the dry, hoarse or tight cough and heals and soothes the inflamed membranes in the case of a painful cough. It also stops the formation of phlegm in the throat and bronchial tubes, thus ending the persistent loose cough.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, combined with guaiaicol, and has been used for generations to heal inflamed membranes of the throat and chest.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex," and don't accept anything else. A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this preparation. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WILL OBSERVE MOODY DAY

Sunday, Feb. 7th, promises to be a day of importance in all Y. M. C. A. buildings throughout the country, as the day has been set apart as Dwight L. Moody day. Services will be held in honor of the memory of the life and work of this man in behalf of the Y. M. C. A. At each association there will be a lecture with stereopticon slides. The Dixon association has been fortunate in securing as the speaker Rev. B. B. Sutcliffe, one of the faculty of the Moody Institute, Chicago. He is conceded to be a capable bible student and is an entertaining talker. The address will be given at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Chicago Tribune: The attempt to force the ship purchase bill through the senate by force of partisanship, patronage or presidential influence should be opposed at all costs. The reasoning advanced for this radical departure in American policy has been so pitifully weak that there would be no scope for the bill if its advocates were depending on reason. Since they are turning to force, they should be met with every resource of parliamentary strategy as well as subjected to the full fire of public opinion.

Beardstown Illinois-Star: The Illinois State Journal says that when John Sharp Williams declared President Wilson would be nominated and re-elected, he was speaking "only for the solid south." The Journal appears to overlook the fact that there is still a possibility of dividing the solid north on national issues.

DOLLAR DAY IS GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY.

Saturday is Dollar Day. It is the Golden Opportunity of the Bargain Hunter. Will he and she seize it? The answer is that he and she will, because in these days of the High Cost of Living nobody can be so extravagant as to overlook a bargain nor can any but the most shiftless or the most plutocratic arrange things with their conscience so that they can stay away from a Dollar Day in Dixon with any degree of comfort because people nowadays know that when Dixon has a Dollar Day it means a lot of money saved by those who come and trade here.

It is a business proposition that the merchants of Dixon are putting up to the people of this section of the state. Dixon offers to save money for all who will come here and buy on Saturday of this week. How can any man or woman who has any idea of management turn a deaf ear to such a proposition?

The business men of Dixon enjoy an enviable reputation for fair dealing. People who trade in Dixon are treated in a way that makes them feel their patronage is appreciated and that they are welcome. Dixon merchants know the value of friendship and they know how to make and keep friends.

The goods for sale in Dixon stores and shops are up to the highest standard of quality and are sold at prices that make the customers come back for more when they are in need. Every day in Dixon your dollar goes a longer way than it does at most trading centers. The wonders you can work with a dollar on Dollar Day are beyond your expectations.

COME TO DIXON ON DOLLAR DAY.

NO DRINKS FOR GERMANS.

It is a matter of deep interest to hear from Germany that the military authorities have discouraged the sending of alcoholic liquors to the troops in the field even though the request was made by the crown prince himself. The scientists who have looked into the subject with stern impartiality declare that the use of liquor in the trenches does more harm than good. The French and the English are inclined to allow the soldiers a considerable amount of wine and liquor. The movement against the use of alcohol on the other side of the line shows the grim purpose of the Germans to secure the greatest possible military efficiency regardless of tradition and without consulting individual desires and tastes.—Nebraska State Journal.

How would you like to be the owner of an elevator full of grain that you could not ship? Most of us would answer that we would just as soon be the owner of several elevators full of grain, even if we could not ship it for awhile.

Did you notice, by the way, that the Telegraph "scooped" 'em all on the governor's proclamation last night and the order that no grain or fodder may be shipped from this county or moved from one point to another within it?

Compare the papers day for day and total up the exclusive stories you find and you will soon be convinced that the Telegraph is the paper to read if you are at all anxious to keep up with current events and have a knowledge of the general activities, local and foreign, that is as advanced as your neighbor's.

LOCKING THE DOOR TOO LATE.

Quarantining Lee county at present is considerably like locking the stable door after the horse is stolen. It is a measure that should have been taken in other counties long ago, before the disease spread to this county, and it should have been taken in this county as soon as it appeared here, before it had an opportunity to spread to other counties.

SENATORIAL SUPPORT

When Senator Burton was "about all in" talking on that six-hour stretch a friendly senator interposed with a long question, very welcome as a respite, while another friend administered a sustaining drink composed for the most part of two raw eggs. And then the refreshed oratorical warrior went on with his speech.—Waterbury American.

OUR BROTHER'S KEEPER.

Poland is now appealing to the United States for contributions of food, clothing and money. Such demands are likely to increase, rather than subside as the war goes on. If this war were America's fault there would seem to be some reason why the burdens should fall on us.—Brooklyn Union.

THE THAW.

When storms have yelled, and frost has held the country for a time, the soft, warm day that hints of May, is luscious and sublime! Were there no snow, we would not know how sweet is such a day; were there no storm, the morning warm, unsung would pass away. They tell of lands where summer stands on deck the whole year through; no storms arise, the balmy skies are of a changeless blue. No blizzards bliz, no northerly whiz, there is no snow or sleet; no whiskers freeze, no mortal sees the chilblains in his feet. I would not care to linger there for more than half a day; oh, I would rot in such a spot—go down in swift decay! Give me the clime where frost and rime lend winter days a zest, where snow balls fly from boys near by and hit me on the chest! Where one may freeze his toes and knees and catch his death o' cold, where North Wind whoops around our coops till summer breaks its hold. There we can prize the azure skies that glow when winter's gone, as we repair to uncle's lair to put our coats in pawn.

W.D. PLACE DIED IN NEBRASKA TOWN

DIXON MAN PASSED AWAY AT VESTA, NEB., WEDNESDAY MORNING.

Word was received here Wednesday afternoon by relatives announcing the death Wednesday of William D. Place at Vesta, Johnson county, Nebraska. He had been in declining health for the past two months, having stomach trouble, and left Dixon about two weeks ago in company with his wife, thinking that the change might be of benefit to him. Announcement of his death came as a great surprise to his friends.

Mr. Place was in the prime of life. He was united in marriage about eight years ago to Nettie M. Johnson, daughter of Squire E. Johnson of this city. Besides his widow he leaves three children, two boys and a girl. He also leaves a nephew in this city, Carl Place, who with his wife have been keeping house at the Place home on Galena avenue during their absence. On March 1st it was their intention to move onto a farm just south of town.

The remains will be brought to this city arriving on Saturday morning.

Harry Emmitt, the ten weeks' old son of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Malley, died on Tuesday afternoon shortly after 3 o'clock, at their home on Hennepin avenue. The little fellow had not been very robust since birth, but his death came wholly unexpected.

FAMILY THEATRE.

The Family will include vaudeville with pictures for the last half of the week and the bill will include the famous Elsie Cole, a singer of popular songs, and Becker & Conlon in a comedy sketch called Seeing Sights. This has special scenery and a regular automobile is said to be a decided novelty. Pictures for tonight are Better Understanding, The Evolution of Percival and Miss Tomboy and Freckles, featuring Lillian Walker. At the matinee on Saturday Japanese cups and saucers will be given away, but on account of two big shows being booked for the following two weeks there will be no gifts at the matinees.

AT THE OPERA HOUSE.

"The Mystery of the Throne Room," is another of those "My Lady Raffles" series, in which Grace Cunard, Francis Ford and Harry Schumm enacted the leading roles. In the intrigue of a small kingdom, ruled by a wilful princess, is depicted in photo-drama. The settings are really beautiful. Francis Ford is well cast as "The International Spy" while Grace Cunard in her devil-may-care fashion, enacts the role of a petulant, madcap princess with convincing realism. Harry Schumm, as a dashing young cavalry officer, forms the third angle of an incomparable trio of players. "In Sunny Spain" is a nifty drama featuring Mary Pickford, and is most realistic and interesting. "Gems and Gems" is the comedy, an L-Ko with Ritchie who has won the heart of everybody, both young and old. You can't help but laugh when an L-Ko comedy comes on. They're all funny. Don't miss "The Man of the Hour," a William A. Brady production, with Robert Warwick in the lead Monday night, a five reel feature.

Frank Winninger comes back next Sunday night in "Coming Thro' the Rye" at the same popular prices, seats on sale Friday morning.

THE GIRL OF MY DREAMS.

The play is free from suggestive lines and is replete with clean, wholesome humor, breezily refreshing. The production is made in a lavish scale and original novelty numbers are interpolated in a manner pleasing to the eye and in perfect harmony with the general theme. The play, from the book of Wilbur D. Nesbit and Otto Hauerbach, blends delightfully with the tinkling music of the late Karl Hoschana, and makes possible amusing opportunities which are fully realized by the splendid company of players who appear in it. Countess Von Hatzfeldt (The Quaker Girl) is a feature in type and actuality. As the demure little miss with the "Thee" and "Thou" habit, she is quaintly charming in voice, action and appearance. Harland Briggs as the chap who has gone the rounds as a bachelor and then is inspired with the a "I'm ready-to-quit-and-be-good" feeling by the little Quaker lady, has an easy stage presence and handles his lines smoothly. At the Opera House next Wednesday night, Feb. 3rd.

TEACHERS MEET HERE FEB. 27

County Superintendent L. W. Miller is arranging for a large teachers' meeting in this city at the south side high school building on Saturday, February 27. As one of the speakers at that time he has secured Mr. Robert C. Moore, ex-county superintendent of Macoupin county, and recently appointed legislative advisor of the Illinois State Teachers' association. He will speak on "Proposed Legislative Education."

NO NEW CASES OF DISEASE HERE

here to cause Gov. Dunne to place the county in close quarantine.

While the elevators of the county are nearly all heavily stocked with corn they were about ready to ship, and which they can not dispose of except on the permit of an assistant state veterinarian, the officials are at work conducting a farm to farm canvass in localities where farms have been quarantined and the disinfection of the premises where cattle have been killed is being conducted most thoroughly.

Harms Road Closed.

The federal inspectors today closed a section of the road that the George Harms farm is on. This is a cross road between the township or Middle Road in Palmyra, and runs between the Township and River roads. The Harms herd, which is infected with the foot and mouth disease, is divided and part is on each side of the road, and for that reason and the difficulty of keeping the highway clear of germs, the inspectors thought best to close the road, which is barricaded and quarantined for a distance of several rods each way from the Harms place.

Fear Spread From Shelling.

After the infection had broken out on one of the Chicago road farms and before it was known by the owner of the herd that the disease was present, a corn shelling bee was held on the place. The inspectors fear that the disease may have been carried to the farms from which the helpers at the corn shelling came from, and a very places for signs of the malady.

There are said to have been thirteen farms represented at this corn shelling job and it may become necessary to quarantine all of them. They are under a partial and unofficial quarantine at present and if the disease appears on any of them speedy official action in the way of quarantine for all will be taken. The governor's proclamation printed exclusively in the Telegraph yesterday, prohibits corn shelling, wood sawing, clover hulling outfits, etc.

The new proclamation prohibits even the hauling of grist to the mill, and hauling it back again on the farm, without a permit from an assistant state veterinarian and there can be no shipments of grain, fodder or stock excepting horses, or even movement of these articles from one point to another within the county without a permit.

Expect Permits.

The elevator and grain men in the county are endeavoring to get permits from State Veterinarian Dyson to buy grain from uninfected farms and ship it.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 28.—The recent lifting of the foot and mouth quarantines from large areas previously closed and the modification of the quarantines in still other sections has been made possible, federal authorities say, by the co-operation, not only of the various state officials, but of farmers and stockmen themselves. Where this co-operation has been most in evidence, progress in the eradication of the disease has been most rapid. The federal authorities have of course control over the movement of live stock in interstate commerce only; the local quarantines are established and enforced by the state. Their efficiency depends in great measure upon the willingness of the people to submit to the necessary restrictions.

Indiana and Michigan are cited as instances of the importance in this respect of public opinion. In Michigan the first herd was slaughtered on October 19. Cases of the disease existed in 15 Michigan counties and 18 in Indiana. In all 330 herds were affected. Sixty days later these herds had all been slaughtered and the infected premises cleaned and freed from the disease. In the interval there had only been a few scattering instances, half a dozen, possibly, of the plague spreading from these different centers of infection to neighboring farms.

The people not only observed the quarantine regulations but did all in their power to expediate the work of slaughter. In many cases they had the ditches in which the animals were to be buried dug and waiting for the killing gangs. As a rule no objection was taken to the appraisers' valuation of the condemned stock, which is the more surprising in view of the fact that so little was generally known of the seriousness of the disease. The farmers did not want to part with their stock. They saw that the sore mouths and feet grew better and they had had no experience with the after effects of the pestilence—the constant aborting, with the failure to produce milk, the ability to disseminate disease months after the visible symptoms had disappeared. Nevertheless they accepted the situation, healing instead of hindering.

In only a very few cases was there any attempt to conceal the existence of the disease, in fact public opinion was so strongly against this that it was practically impossible to do so. In one instance a man fed some skim milk from a creamery to a calf which later developed foot and mouth disease. It occurred to him to kill the calf and say nothing about the matter. The neighbors, however, obtained some inkling of the facts and notified the authorities. After he had been forced to admit that he had killed the calf the body was dug up and unmistakable marks of the disease found upon it. Within two weeks all the rest of the herd had been infected and had to be killed. In addition the owner was fined $29 or so for breaking the quarantine regulations. The sentiment of the whole community was against him.

In another case in Michigan an individual with a weakness for dogs of which he owned five or six ignored the regulation which required all dogs to be tied up in order to prevent their picking up and spreading the disease. With him as with the calf owner it was the neighbors who objected. The sheriff tied up the dogs and their owner paid a fine of $23. A week or ten days afterwards he was more severely punished by the loss of all his cattle which came down with the disease and had to be slaughtered. There had been no previous outbreak in that neighborhood for three weeks. Although dogs, as in this case and chickens unquestionably act as mechanical carriers in spreading the disease, in Indiana and Michigan the creameries were found to be one of the chief source of contagion. One of the first steps taken by the authorities was to insist upon the creameries sterilizing the skimmed milk and whey before these were returned to be fed to stock. At the beginning of the campaign in Berrien county, Michigan, there were at least 170 herds infected in an area approximately 18 miles long by 8 miles wide. Of this infection 76 per cent was traced to skimmed milk returned by the creameries. After the order requiring sterilization went into effect, one establishment allowed its apparatus to get out of order and three days went by before it was repaired. Infection in 3 herds was traced to the carelessness of these three days.

In Allegan county, again, there was one small herd affected. At though he delivered milk to it for only one or two days this was sufficient to infect 21 herds and it was considered fortunate that all of the 59 patrons did not suffer.

From such experiences as these live stock authorities are more than ever convinced that skim milk should invariably be sterilized.

The danger from the foot and mouth disease is of course a passing one. Previous epidemics have been stamped out and there is no reason to suppose that this one will not be. Tuberculosis however, is a permanent menace. Its symptoms are not so immediately noticeable and it is therefore more difficult to trace the origin of the infection but there is no doubt that it is frequently disseminated in skim milk in the same way that the foot and mouth disease is.

U. S. Pays Illinois Farmers.

The federal government during the day began to pay off farmers whose stock was slain in the war on the epidemic. The federal government is paying half the price at which the cattle were appraised. The state will pay the other half as soon as the legislature makes an appropriation.

It is said the appraised price on the basis of which the farmers are being paid is better than they would have received for ordinary stock, if it had been sold for beef.

A fund of $600,000 has been allotted by the government to Illinois, which is incurring the heaviest losses by reason of the epidemic.

Bid Farmers Halt Sales.

As a result of the closing of the Chicago stockyards at Chicago, the department of agriculture at Washington formally has advised farmers not to send their beef cattle to market for immediate slaughter during the next few days.

Until the stockyards are thoroughly disinfected cattle will go into a market where there will be little competition, where they will be sold regardless of the price offered, or else be subjected to the dangers of infection. Farmers in Illinois continue flooding Senator Sherman with letters regarding the federal government's activity in the fight on the epidemic. Many farmers urge segregation and study. Others urge immediate slaughter of all infected herds and also all herds which have been exposed to infection.

Both the senator and the department in Washington believe progress is being made as rapidly as possible in the fight on the epidemic at the present time. The department hopes to wipe it out entirely within a few more weeks.

Penalties of the Law.

Since there is suspicion in some places that cases of the disease are being hidden, the following extract from "An act to revise the law in relation to the suppression and prevention of the spread of contagious and infectious diseases among domestic animals, approved June 14, 1909, in force July 1, 1909," may be of special interest.

Section 6. "Any person who knowing that any communicable disease exists among his domestic animals shall conceal such fact, or knowing of the existence of such disease, shall sell any animal or animals diseased, or any exposed animal, or knowing the same, shall remove any such diseased or exposed animal from his premises to the premises of another, or knowing of the existence of such disease or exposure thereto, shall drive or lead, or ship any animal so diseased or exposed, by any car or steamboat, to any place in or out of this State; and any person or persons who shall bring any such diseased or knowingly, shall bring any such exposed animal or animals into this state from another state; and any person or persons who shall knowingly buy, receive, sell or convey, or engage in the traffic of such diseased or exposed stock, any person who shall violate any quarantine, regulation established under the provisions of this act shall, for each, either, any or all acts above mentioned in this section, be guilty of a misdemeanor and, on conviction thereof, or of any one of said acts, shall be fined in any sum not less than $20 nor more than $200 and be imprisoned in the county jail until the fine and costs are paid, and shall forfeit all right to any compensation for any animal or property destroyed under the provisions of this act.

Any veterinarian practitioner having information of the existence of any communicable disease among domestic animals in this state, who shall fail to promptly report such knowledge to said Board of Live Stock Commissioners, shall be fined not exceeding $500 or be imprisoned in the county jail not more than one year for each offense.

Section 7. All fines recovered under the provisions of this act shall be paid into the county treasury of the county in which the suit is tried, by the person collecting the same, in the manner provided by law, to be used for county purposes; and it shall be the duty of the states attorneys in their respective counties to prosecute for all violations of this act."

was in the instances described. Together with the creameries, public sales of live stock have proved themselves most dangerous agents in the spreading of foot and mouth disease. In Indiana and Michigan the state authorities absolutely prohibited the holding of such sales in or adjacent to areas where the disease existed. The spread of the contagion in other states where this prohibition was not enforced shows the value of the precaution but it requires strong and determined action on the part of the local authorities.

The Exploits of Elaine

A Detective Novel and a Motion Picture Drama

By ARTHUR B. REEVE
The Well-Known Novelist and the Creator of the "Craig Kennedy" Stories

Presented in Collaboration With the Pathe Players and the Eclectic Film Company

Copyright, 1914, by the Star Company. All Foreign Rights Reserved.

We walked down the street when a big limousine shot past. Kennedy stopped in the middle of a remark. He had recognized the car, with a sort of instinct.

At the same moment I saw a smiling face at the window of the car. It was Elaine Dodge.

The car stopped in something less than twice its length and then backed toward us.

Kennedy, hat off, was at the window in a moment. There were Aunt Josephine and Susie Martin, also.

"Where are you boys going?" asked Elaine, with interest, then added with a gaiety that ill concealed her real anxiety, "I'm so glad to see you—to see that—er—nothing has happened from the dreadful Clutching Hand."

"Why, we were just going up to our rooms," replied Kennedy.

"Can't we drive you around?"

We climbed in and a moment later were off. The ride was only too short for Kennedy. We stepped out in front of our apartment and stood chatting for a moment.

"Some day I want to show you the laboratory," Craig was saying.

"It must be so interesting!" exclaimed Elaine very enthusiastically. "Think of all the bad men you must have caught!"

Elaine hesitated. "Would you like to see it?" she wheedled of Aunt Josephine.

Aunt Josephine nodded acquiescence, and a moment later we all entered the building.

"You—you are very careful since that last warning," asked Elaine as we approached our door.

"More than ever—now," replied Craig. "I have made up my mind to win."

Kennedy had started to unlock the door, when he stopped short.

"See," he said, "this is a precaution I have just installed. I almost forgot in the excitement."

He pressed a panel and disclosed the boxlike apparatus.

"This is my kinograph, which tells me whether I have any visitors in my absence. If the pen traces a straight line, it is all right; but if—hello—Walter, the line is wavy."

We exchanged a significant glance. "Would you mind—er—standing down the hall just a bit while I enter?" asked Craig.

"Be careful," cautioned Elaine.

He unlocked the door, standing off to one side. Then he extended his hand across the doorway. Still nothing.

It was the Clutching Hand.

ing happened. There was not a sound. He looked cautiously into the room. Apparently there was nothing.

It had been about the middle of the morning that an express wagon had pulled up sharply before our apartment.

"Mr. Kennedy live here?" asked one of the expressmen, descending with his helper and approaching our janitor, Jens Jensen, a typical Swede, who was coming up out of the basement.

Jens growled a surly, "Yes—but Mr. Kennedy, he bane out."

"Too bad—we've got this large cabinet he ordered from Grand Rapids. We can't cart it around all day. Can't you let us in so we can leave it?"

ways an unpleasant part.

Once or twice a week some enterprising lad in one of the high schools in the district writes for material for a debate. He usually gets what he wants and he gets an answer to his letter. Some times we get requests for documents we never heard of, so we get busy and find out just what is desired. In that we learn something, so when we get a similar request we know then what to do to obtain the document.

Then there are our old soldiers. They want something and they always get attention. Their pension claims must be looked after, which is always a pleasure to do. Then an attorney writes for pension blanks.

About the most unpleasant matter which we sometimes have to attend to is to write an unfortunate soldier or a soldier's widow that his or her pension claim has been rejected. They can't understand why they are not entitled to a pension, or an increase of pension. But those are the unpleasant matters of life.

But letters from constituents are not all. There are other matters here that we must transact. For instance, the other day there walked into our office a fine young woman who said she was from Virginia and did not know much about Washington. She wanted to know what car to take to get down to the art gallery and what were the hours for visitors. We knew about the car but did not know about the hours for the gallery. That meant telephoning. The information was given and the young lady departed apparently happy.

While we were waiting on the lady from Virginia, there stepped into the office an old lady who wished to meet the Congressman and to take up with him a pension matter. That meant a trip to the Capitol and a call for the Congressman. Back to the office. In a few minutes the telephone rang and some secretary wished to know where he could get a certain document and how he could go about getting the same. He was given the information. Then a rap at the door, and a woman, who said she had three little children to support, wanted a position, or work of any kind. We, of course, could do nothing for her. After her came a man who wanted to know if we had all the seed franks addressed. We informed him we did, and again we were alone for a few minutes. Later a woman selling brushes came in and as the brushes sold for 25 cents and we could not induce her to sell one for a dime, she departed on her way.

The other day a middle aged woman entered the office and took up one hour telling us how some big political machine was working to de-throne President Wilson. Of course we didn't care how soon Mr. Wilson was dethroned, but disliked very much to have to sit and listen to an improbable story. And so it goes on each day during the entire week. And when the hour for leaving comes we always feel that we have earned our salary, but that is what we are here for and we are always willing to do the work. I frankly admit I like the work very much for you always feel that you are doing many people a great deal of good and you are also putting into your district some valuable information and settling some very important matters.

An Extra Session?

It really looks now like an extra session. The Democratic party has rallied to the support of the shipping bill and that being true it will pass Congress as a party measure. If an extra session is called the rural credits bill will come up and if the President runs short of ideas until then, he will no doubt, think of several more for the extra session. Several very prominent Democratic leaders in the Senate frankly admit that the country does not want the ship bill, but, as it has been made a party measure, they will stand pat with the President. The Republicans will fight the bill, with the hope of eventually defeating it. But that remains to be seen.

The Dacia Matter.

Keep your eye on the Dacia matter. If that ship sails there is going to be trouble. Keep yourself posted. Washington is eagerly watching the outcome of the affair.

Weather.

We have had weather here again. A sleet storm was with us for two days. Tomorrow you will probably see loafers sitting in the parks. But such you must expect in the capital city of the country.

Cheer up. January is almost over and after that there can not be so dreadfully many months of cold weather.

It develops now that the prize daffodil of the season is "Nobody home but the hoof and mouth disease and that is on the hog." The author's name, however, is not known, consequently credit cannot be given.

Once, and only once, a year we have a regular January thaw—but it seems that a certain other Thaw is continually bobbing up.

Any man who would want to spend a Sunday in continental Europe now could be said to "rather fight than eat."

Near Relatives.

"Who is that lady dressed in black Mama?" asked a little girl on a Northwestern train last evening.

"That is a Sister of Charity, dear," replied the parent.

The little one sat and pondered deeply for a moment or two and then asked: "Which is she, mamma, Faith or Hope?"

A Fair Proposition.

According to the story they are telling in New York, the German Kaiser was complimenting a soldier named Einstein, who had distinguished himself on the field of battle.

"I am told," the Kaiser is quoted as saying, "that you are a very poor man and the only support of your aged parents. Because of your poverty you shall have your choice between taking the Iron Cross or a hundred marks."

"Your Majesty," inquired the canny hero, "what is the cross worth in money?"

"Not much," said the emperor; "it is the honor that makes it valuable. It is worth perhaps two marks."

"Very well, then," said Private Einstein, drawing himself up to his full height and saluting. "I will take the Iron Cross and eighty-eight marks in cash!"

Thought They Were in the Furnace.

Clerk in Southern Winter Hotel—You will find sir, that the embers of the civil war haven't all burned out in this place yet.

OBSERVED AND NOTED AT NATION'S CAPITAL

(By John H. Byers.)

Washington, D. C., Jan. 25.—Today is the beginning of another week and from the way it starts out, I am looking forward for a busy week. Our mail to day brought us nearly fifty letters. Each letter was answered. Each request was granted. In order to comply promptly with requests it sometimes takes two or three letters. I remember one day writing seven letters to comply with the request of an aggressive constituent.

Our mail today contained a dozen letters offering suggestions on how to vote and how to defeat some proposed legislation. Five or six letters asked us to defeat the proposed Fitzgerald amendment to the Post-office Appropriation bill. The fact of the matter is the proposed Fitzgerald amendment being new legislation was taken out of the bill on a point of order. The matter is now before

SOME DIPLOMAT IS JOHN D. JR.

"Mother" Jones Says Son of Oil King Is Misunderstood.

CHEERED AS TESTIMONY ENDS

No. 26 Broadway for First Time in History Opens Doors to Newspaper Men, and Scion of Billion Talks Freely—"Mother Jones" Says "Good Boy."

New York, Jan. 28.—Mother Jones, the strike agitator and friend of coal miners, who has been denouncing capitalists and their methods for many years, went to the office of John D. Rockefeller Jr. in the afternoon to tell him about the situation in Colorado, where the Colorado Fuel and Iron company, of which Mr. Rockefeller is a director, has extensive holdings.

She came from the office smiling. She had completely changed her opinion of Mr. Rockefeller.

"He has been misunderstood," she said. "He has been defamed. No one has done more of it than I have. I have denounced him everywhere. Now I am going to do all I can to make that right. I used to call him a 'high class burglar.' I know now he is not that. I know what he thinks about these things now. I am sure he means to do right."

John D. Also Sees Reporters.

Within two minutes after Mother Jones had gone down the hallway to the mighty boom of a flash light in the hands of a photographer Mr. Rockefeller was shaking hands with half a dozen reporters in his own office. That has never happened before. News from 26 Broadway has come in the form of carefully prepared statements given out by a clerk. Tonight this polite young man with the keen eyes and softly modulated voice sat down and talked for more than half an hour of his affairs and the great problems they have brought to him.

"Mother Jones," he said, "told me about conditions in Colorado as she had found them. She told me of the complaints of the miners, that they want opportunity to buy their supplies at other than company stores, that they want schools and churches not owned by the company and of which the teachers and ministers are not appointed by the company officials, that they want the right of free speech, the right to assemble and discuss their affairs, that they object to paying fees for the company's doctors, a variety of things that they believe to be wrong in principle and practice."

"I pointed out to her the great difficulty of getting all these things in a mining camp, far removed from the ordinary community life."

"Now I think there is a better understanding. I realize that as she said, the great difficulty is that there has not been sufficient opportunity for employees to lay their grievances before the higher officials of the company. What I am trying to do now is to get information on this situation. I am sure that differences will be more easily settled when the facts are known. Tomorrow I am to talk with John R. Lawson, Frank J. Hayes, Edward L. Doyle and a Mr. Lord."

Thanks Commission.

It was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when Mr. Rockefeller left the witness stand after being on the stand before the commission on industrial relations since Monday morning. As he quitted the chair Mr. Rockefeller turned to Chairman Walsh and said:

"I wish to thank the commission for the courtesy extended to me by its members. I fear I have tried the patience of you all by the way I have answered questions. I beg to repeat that I am anxious to avail myself of any and all suggestions for bettering the work of the foundation from the commission. I hope that as a result of these hearings there may develop a better understanding among all concerned, not only in Colorado, but also in the situation generally and that improvement will come about."

"Good Job," Says Mother Jones.

There was an outburst of applause as Mr. Rockefeller stood up to go, but Chairman Walsh squelched it quickly. Leaving the platform Mr. Rockefeller went down to a seat at a table near the front of the room. Right in that particular spot a coterie of men and women recognized as I. W. W. agitators have had seats since the hearings began. Mother Jones was there and she leaned over to Mr. Rockefeller and said:

"Young man, you did a good job. I want to shake hands with you."

MAN WHO SUED JUDGE CONFESSES FRAME-UP

He Had Charged Landis with Assaulting Him.

Chicago, Jan. 28.—A statement made by Frank Blackledge, who sued Judge K. M. Landis of the United States District court for damages some time ago, was read before the jurist, admitting that Blackledge had given false testimony before the judge in a bankruptcy proceeding in 1912. Statements made by B. B. Evans, against whom the bankruptcy proceedings in 1912 were instituted, and Harry D. Jones, a barber, who also was a witness and who was sent to jail with Blackledge by Judge Landis, who charged they had perjured themselves, also were read.

In his admissions made in the statement, which was taken by Hinton G. Claybaugh, Chicago superintendent of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, Blackledge named an "Attorney Morris" as having advised him to testify as he did at the 1912 bankruptcy hearing.

As a result of being sent to jail by Judge Landis, Blackledge filed a suit for damages in the state courts against the federal jurist, among other things charging the judge assaulted him.

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

DIXON PEOPLE SHOULD NOT NEGLECT THEIR KIDNEYS.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To relieve the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of the back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Here is convincing proof of merit. It comes from this locality:

Mrs. J. H. Boehm, 906 Fourth avenue, Sterling, Ill., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years and think they are the best kidney remedy to be had. Although I never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills myself (I can confirm the public statement I gave some years ago in their favor. One of the family had trouble from his back and kidneys. The kidney action was irregular and his back hurt him. Finally he used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Perry's Drug store, and they gave relief."

The above is not an isolated case. Mrs. Boehm is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's if you back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Boehm recommends. 50¢ all stores. CZAR IS MID WAY TO KOENIGSBERG

Russ Soldiers 55 Miles from East Prussian Capital.

GERMANS ARE REINFORCING

Grand Duke Nicholas is Also Pushing on Toward Thorn—German Official Statement Says Foe's Advance in Poland Has Been Repulsed With Loss.

Petrograd, Jan. 28.—Developments of a new Russian offensive, aimed at Koenigsberg, capital of East Prussia, on the Gulf of Danzig, was announced in an official statement.

Russian forces operating in East Prussia, north of Insterburg, attacked along a line extending from Malwischen to Lasdehnen and were successful in pushing back the Germans. The Russian outposts now are within fifty-five miles of Koenigsberg, nearly half the distance between that great fortress and the Russian frontier.

The advance on Koenigsberg is being made along the route of the Northern railway, instead of by the more direct route that lies through Insterburg. The Germans are offering stubborn resistance and are being reinforced.

Add to Army Aiming at Thorn. Reinforcements are being sent to the army of Grand Duke Nicholas, moving along the right bank of the Vistula to invade Prussia near the fortress of Thorn. Only outpost engagements are taking place in this region, the skirmishing being around Kikol.

On the left bank of the Vistula and southeast of Skienlevice, German attacks were repulsed. The Russian fire silenced two German batteries.

The Austrians have increased their activity along the line of the Carpathian mountains, leading southeast from the Dukla Pass, particularly at Jaselska and Uszok, but have been repulsed with a loss of 300 prisoners.

Berlin Official Report.
Berlin, Jan. 27.—The war office statement today said of the eastern situation:

"Russian attacks have been made to the northeast of Gumbinnen, in East Prussia. The losses of the enemy at certain places were heavy. There were no changes in the situation in Poland."

FIND CHIEF SLAVE WITNESS

Ruth Allen, Spirited Away, Is Arrested by Detroit Police.

Detroit, Jan. 28.—Ruth Allen, chief witness for the government in its case against Joseph Maloof, Clyde Morton and Maud Brownlee, held in a total of $55,000 bail on a charge of transporting women from Illinois to Detroit for immoral purposes, returned to the city and is being held in one of the outlying police stations by order of William Black, head of the free lance squad.

The woman had been spirited away from the city by a friend of Maloof, and in the three weeks she was gone traveled through Illinois, Missouri and Ohio. A ruse gained escape for her.

Welch to Box Ritchie.
New York, Jan. 28.—Willie Ritchie will box Freddie Welch in New York March 11. The deal was closed by a long distance talk from here to Frisco.
